

D

Khwarizmi Science Society Celebrates Current Science

(1997-2008)

The Khwarizmi Science Society “science celebrations” are thematic events organized around emerging happenings of world-wide scientific and technological importance and national interest or concern.

1. Let There be no Forces Outside Your Control Mar – May 1998, University of Engineering and Technology, Lahore
(Hands’ on workshop on automobiles’ nuts and bolts led by our lead mechanical and electrical engineer, Awais Naseem Vohra); technology

2. The Two Sides of Pakistan’s Nuclear Programme November 1998, Al-Hamra Cultural Complex and University of Engineering and Technology, Lahore
(Public Symposiums on the pros and cons of the nuclear programme in Pakistan); national technology

3. Celebrating Non-Linearity (Series of Public Lectures and video presentations on chaos, non-linear dynamics and fractals by Dr. Tariq Abdullah and Muhammad Abubakr); physics and mathematics
Sep – Oct 1999, The Punjab University and University of Engineering and Technology

4. Celebrating the Human Genome (Series of Public Lectures by leading experts on genetics and molecular biology: Profs. M. A. Cheema, A. R. Shakoori. M. W. Akhtar and M. H. Qazi); Biology

5. The Nanotechnology Week (Series of Public Lectures by leading experts on the nano-sciences: Profs. Ahmed Shuja, Arshad Bhatti and Sabih-ud-Din Khan); nanotechnology

6. Dengue Fever – A Possible Threat to our Lives? (Public Lecture by Dr. Waseem Akram, entomologist from the Agriculture University, Faisalabad); biology and public health

7. Thematic Study on the History of Science (Public Lecture and Symposium by Drs. Salman Hameed and George Saliba); history of science

